 Gravity's Rainbow Epigraph

I am very please to announce that the conference website for the UK Pynchon Network (and our first conference) is now online! The address is: <https://www.martineve.com/ukpn/>

We have an exciting programme of speakers lined up for the day, which is scheduled to kick off at 10am in the Durham University English Department's main seminar room.

Attendance is free but, as such, you'll have to buy your own lunch! If you are planning to attend, please register so that we know how many people to expect.

Finally here's a poster [PDF] that can be distributed as far and as wide as possible.

Looking forward to seeing you all there.
