This post is the final in an ongoing series where I intend to develop my full personal (not institutional) response to the HE Green Paper. Comments are welcome to refine this.

You can now download my full response in a Word document format. The document total is 18,750 words.

I hereby release this work under a CC0 license. You may reuse this without attribution, although I suggest that you do not submit it to BIS in precisely the same form but rather use it as the basis for your own response. I make no guarantee that this document will remain static until the consultation deadline. I hope this will encourage others to respond to the green paper.
