

"opening out into a broader highway"

The First Meeting of the UK Pynchon Network

Durham University, 1st April 2011

English Studies Main Seminar Room: see <http://www.dur.ac.uk/english.studies/>

A forum for the discussion of works in progress, and complete, on the writings of Thomas Pynchon.

Speakers and Topics

Simon de Bourcier (University of East Anglia):

"A Diagram in Four Dimensions": Spatial Time in Pynchon's Early Novels

Martyn J Colebrook (University of Hull):

Title to be confirmed

Martin Paul Eve (University of Sussex):

The F Word

Joanna Freer (University of Sussex)

Can Pynchon be considered a feminist?

Nick Holdstock (University of Edinburgh):

'Escape, Transcendence and Subtraction in Thomas Pynchon's Vineland'

Richard Moss (Durham University):

Title to be confirmed

Xavier Marco del Pont (Royal Holloway, University of London):

Oedipa, the Sphinx, and the Riddle: Lost in the Semiopolis

Chris Wright (Newcastle University):

James, Pynchon and 'American Innocence'

For more details, please visit: <https://www.martineve.com/ukpn/>